

MANIFESTO

We believe children deserve a meaningful childhood where they are respected and taken serious as individuals.

We believe in a world where children receive unconditional love and compassion.

We believe in a world where children are supported and comforted in their personalities.

We believe in a world where every child is given the chance to make his dreams happen.

We believe in a world where children are introduced to care and self love.

Childhood Mothers

A blog for kind & caring parents

We believe in a world where every child is taught the rules of togetherness, sharing, caring and acceptance towards others.

We believe children should be introduced to inclusivity and diversity at an early age.

We believe in a world where every child proudly represents their culture, identity, gender and background.

We believe in a world where children are given all the tools to understand, connect and protect nature sustainability.

We believe in a world where children are given all the cultural skills to understand the world.
